

Privacy Policy

At RC Brown Investment Management, we take your privacy seriously and will only use your personal information to administer your account and to provide the services you have requested from us.

Once you become a client, from time to time we may also need to contact you to provide you with details of changes to our services. In order to meet our regulatory obligations, we will retain information about you and the advice we provide for up to seven years from the end of our business relationship.

In providing our service we may share your information with associated companies, service providers, their agents and regulators. We will endeavour to ensure that your information is only used in line with your instructions and our strict policies on confidentiality. Some recipients may be based in other countries where standards of data protection may be different. Wherever possible we will make sure that you have the same levels of protection as in the UK.

We will not contact you to market other services and we will only pass on your details to other agencies where we have a legal or regulatory duty to do so.
